Prelude: "Beneath The Cross Of Jesus" Shelly Nussbaum

*Invocation Prayer: (Unison) Lisa Krueckeberg, Liturgist

Lord Jesus, in this season of Lent, as we draw nearer and nearer to the cross, give us courage. Our steps falter as we anticipate flowing your footsteps on the road to Calvary. Be Bread for our weakness, be Light for our darkness, be the Gate that leads to life, be the Shepherd the leads us through the valleys, and the Resurrection the brings us new life. And now in these moments of worship, surround us and bless us with your matchless grace. Amen.

*Hymn: "Savior, Like A Shepherd Lead Us" No. 462

Litany of Confession of Readiness: (Responsively) Rev. Kahler

Let us not set aside the joys and cares of life which are part of us as we travel together. We do not intend to separate our worship from our lives, but rather to bring our lives into acts of worship where the power of God will invite us in for refreshment and renewal on this Journey.

We agree to be who we are before God who already knows us. We shall confess together our needs.

Confession of need: (Unison)

My life has times of joy and strength; I need to be able to rejoice and be thankful for it. My life has times of hurt and frustration; I need to be able to bring those feeling honestly before my family and my God. My life has times when I am lonely and lost; I need to be able to admit those feelings and face my own lack of response to others My life has times of choosing the wrong, not just by ignorance or accident, but also by rationalization, by stubborn intent; I need to be able to “Enter the Door” and return and be forgiven and welcome.

An Assurance of Pardon: (Responsively)

Be at peace with God, for God does not deal with us according to our sins, but according to great love. Be at peace with yourself and with others, for what God grants to us in the open arms of love is available to us in our acceptance of self and one another.

We may be at peace, for Jesus said, “My peace I leave with you always.” Jesus is the Gate, and he calls us to welcome all people of the world.
